Presenting the new international media hub for converting and flexible electronics

Dear readers,

Printed Electronics is a family!

Since the official launch of our M2N Media GmbH at the beginning of January 2024, we have experienced exactly this strong sense of togetherness in many conversations - and we are very grateful for all the motivation and encouragement!

We have been supporting the flexible, organic and printed electronics industry at trade fairs, open houses and conferences for many years. We are Martin Hirschmann, Nina Pirchmoser and Nadine Bauernfeind.!

We proudly present: PRO Flexconvert and PRO Flextronics! |

We stand for committed and impartial specialised journalism from the industry and for the industry.

We think beyond media boundaries and are fully committed to multichannel content.

Have we piqued your interest? Then let us convince you!

- » Subscribe to our newsletter
- » Order our print editions
- » Connect with us on LinkedIn
- » Get in touch with us and tell us about your ideas
- » Create your media strategy together with us: advertising and editorials!

We look forward to hearing from you!

Your PRO Flexconvert and PRO Flextronics Team

Join the Flextronics Family!

Martin Hirschmann

He has more than a decade of experience in writing about converting and printed electronics. Podcasts, hosting live events and online reporting are also part of his repertoire!

Nina Pirchmoser

She boasts long-term experience as media sales manager in the Converting and Flextronics industries. Company visits and networking at leading industry events are a mainstay in Nina's professional philosophy. She thrives on personalised and individual customer service and advice.

Nadine Bauernfeind

She brings her long-standing experience with various magazines into this project. Nadine has her core competences in design, typesetting and layout. With her keen sense for colours, shapes and motives, she puts the icing on the cake, when it comes to graphic design.

Three brands - one passion!

PRO Flextronics – Your new media hub for organic, flexible and printed electronics

We are Print!

You tell us what moves you - we will design your individual media concept. Cooperative, simple and in close collaboration.

Your free technical article - we edit and design everything according to your needs and journalistic standards.

Your advertisement – in the print magazine and in the E-Paper.

Together, we will find the optimal format. Call us - or should we visit you directly?

We are Online!

Our website offers daily news about latest products, appointments, tradeshows, events and „Industry Gossip“ – bilingually in English and German.

Send us your latest press release in order to fully seize this attractive environment for your business.

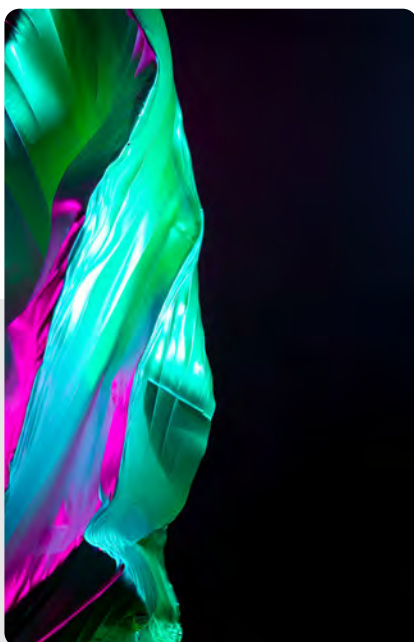

Book attractive banner placements or an online extension for your already published print articles!

We are Content Creators!

We go to all the places where we meet our target group. Besides our up-to-date website, we also fly our flags on LinkedIn – including attractive advertisement opportunities.

Our podcasts The Voice of Converting and The Voice of Flextronics offer exclusive insights and conversations with fascinating guests.

PRO Flextronics – The Next Generation of Electronics

Flextronics is our abbreviation for flexible electronics: Lightweight, thin, low-cost, sustainable, and easily integrated.

Start into your flexible future with us!

We report on new form factors, more sustainable production methods and exciting product novelties. Accompany this growth sector on its way into the mass markets!

PRO Flextronics will be published twice annually as Print Magazine and E-Paper, accompanied by monthly newsletters and daily online-news. The magazine's language is English.

We have attractive advertising opportunities for you!
